GM Report

My name is Sean Maloney and I have been given the incredible opportunity to serve as the Chi Chapter Grand Master during the fall of 2019. The pressures of additional classes and preparations for law school have made it necessary for me to hand over the Grand Master duties for the spring semester to brother Tyler Fink.

A little bit of information about myself: I am a Junior studying General Management in the Krannert School of Management with a minor in Philosophy and Political Science with the goal of going to law school and becoming a commercial litigator. As a freshman, I could immediately gather from friends and new people on campus that Kappa Sigma was a prestigious fraternity. After the first 30 minutes of my first rush event at 308 North Street and listening to all the brothers talk about how special this house and brotherhood is, I knew this was where I wanted my home to be for the next four years. This house has helped mold me into the man I am today, given me friendships that will last a lifetime, and shown me how to live by the Star and Crescent every day.

To begin with, this summer 6 brothers, including myself, traveled to the 150th Sesquicentennial Anniversary Grand Conclave in Charlottesville, Virginia. It was an incredible experience to be immersed in all of the history of Kappa Sigma and to see the dorm room at 46 East Lawn where our Five Friends and Brothers founded this remarkable fraternity. While at Grand Conclave, Chi was awarded the Largest Chapter on Campus award. Our main goal this year is to come together as a house and win multiple national awards including the FACE award.

As a chapter, we have already been working diligently this first semester and have done many noteworthy things that display how incredible this house is and how strong our brotherhood is. Our main focuses are to improve our house GPA to compete for a top spot among all of the 42 fraternities on campus, raise more philanthropy dollars and community service hours than ever before, increase campus leadership positions and earn 100% on ritual proficiency throughout the house.

The chapter's closer interaction with the University began this fall with dinners and discussions with Dr.

Katie Sermersheim, Associate Vice-Provost and Dean of Students, and Brandon Cutler, Associate Dean of Students. Brother Mike Cline, Chi's faculty adviser and Purdue Senior Vice President, is also a regular visitor to the house.

Along with our philanthropic, academic, and intramural activities, the chapter has excelled in campus involvement. Brothers are members and involved in the Old Master's Program, Civil Engineering Student Advisory Council, Purdue Engineering Student Council, Purdue THINK, Interfraternity Council, College Mentors for Kids, Pharmacy Club, National Electrical Construction Association, and many more. Chi also continues to win multiple championships in intramurals and plans on winning many more throughout the year.

On the philanthropic and community service side, Chi has, so far, hosted a Spike Ball tournament, a Pumpkin carving contest, sold hot chocolate, and is preparing for our annual Yuletide event which will also double as a food drive. Our biggest accomplishment so far this year has been rising over $4,000 in one day in support of our brother, Tommy Lenskold, who will be competing in Zeta's Big Man on Campus competition for the second year in a row. All proceeds from this event go to funding research for breast cancer.

This past September the chapter participated in the Mega Reunion for the brothers of the '60s. We had the privilege of meeting some incredible brothers. Their stories about Chi back in the day; what they have accomplished in their lives since Purdue; the bond of brotherhood that lasts forever; and their advice for living a productive life were truly impressive and inspiring.

As a chapter, we have many exciting events planned for the second semester including a phenomenal spring rush, the culmination of the Big Man on Campus competition, Mom's day, an Easter egg themed philanthropy event, Grand Prix, and the annual Man of the Year dinner and many more fun activities.

It has been two years since our last Agitator. The chapter alumni leaders and chapter officers are committed to rectifying this with 2 full Agitators Issues per year from now on along with regular updates issues.

The House Corporation has made several significant additions and changes to the services provided to the chapter. A live-in House Mother, an outside accounting firm, a regular cleaning/ maintenance service and other professional support vendors have been added.

Ms. Teri Battleday started as the chapter's live-in House Mother (House Director) on August 12, 2019. Three of the single rooms on the first floor were converted into a House Mother's Suite this past summer. Times have changed. Currently, 15 of Purdue's 42 fraternities have House Mothers.

Bill Humphrey, Greek Life Services, has been engaged to provide an independent accounting service for the Chi House Corporation financial activities. Omni Services began cleaning the common areas of the chapter house every Tuesday last year. Omni Services also does regular inspections of the house and provides prompt repairs when needed. With a new chef and menu process, College Chefs is now in its 7th year providing food service for the chapter.

We welcome back Robert Morris '00 who was recently reappointed as Chi's Alumni Adviser. Robert has extensive experience as a past Chi Alumni Adviser and DGM for Chi's District. Most of Robert's AAA's have graduated within the past 5-10 years. Other alumni support will continue to be provided by all of the dedicated alumni on other boards. A special thanks to Bob Sorensen '60, "who wants no official title", but who continues visiting house at least once a week and provides other "services" to the Alumni Boards.

Michael Cline '84, Purdue Senior Vice President, is continuing as Chi's Faculty Adviser. Mike has been a great help to the chapter and alumni groups as an example and mentor.

Besides leading the efforts to increase the funding and scholarship support provided by the Education Foundation, Steve Springer '67 has been very helpful providing legal "suggestions" to the chapter and alumni.

Normal chapter house wear and tear is beginning to show in spite of reasonable maintenance and upgrading efforts over the 19 years since Chi was remodeled and expanded. The general condition of the house is still very good, but it is now realistic and necessary to start thinking about upgrades and renovations to continue to make the house competitive with the recent renovations or construction by other large fraternities on campus.

Maintaining reasonable house occupancy for the past several years has continued to be difficult due to outside forces and changing student attitudes. Several large, relatively luxurious apartment buildings have opened near the house over the past 2 years. Also, a common problem for all Greek organizations is the new trend that "members want to live out their senior year". As a result, recent house occupancy has been well below the modified occupancy of 74 resulting from the use of study rooms for "Chill Rooms", a Store Room, a Dedicated Study Room and the House Mother's Suit.

In spite of low occupancy, the House Corporation's finances remain reasonably healthy. However, the financial impacts due to the recent low occupancy and small pledge classes will seriously impact the house corporation's future operating budgets and capital reserves.

2019-2020 HOUSE CORPORATION AND EDUCATION FUND ANNUAL DUES & CAPITAL FUND DONATIONS

We would like to thank the alumni who have generously supported our Chapter with their annual House Corporation and Education Foundation dues and fund donations. During the month of December, we will be circulating our annual request for alumnus financial assistance with ongoing expenses, capital improvements and scholarship awards. Please consider donating to these programs. They will help make Chi an even greater place to be at for a few years and for a lifetime.

2018 MAN OF THE YEAR & HALL OF FAME BANQUET

Over 130 Chi brothers and spouses gathered for the February 10, 2018 edition of Chi's annual Man of the Year event. Alumni brothers Jim Zeitler, '65, was honored as Chi's 2018 Man of the Year and Jack Rozwat, '80, was inducted into Chi's Hall of Fame.

After graduating with a degree in Industrial Engineering, Brother Zeitler began a distinguished career as a pilot in the US Air Force, retiring as a Lt. Colonel. Jim's awards, citations and "adventures" starting in Vietnam are the stuff of legends. One question that some of us did not hear answered is why did an Air Force pilot do over 100 carrier landings?

Brother Rozwat graduated Purdue with a BSEE and continued with a MBA from the U of Chicago. Starting as a Hewlett-Packard Sales Engineer has progressed to the position of Director of Field Operations with Keysight Technologies. Besides his day job, Jack is active in several electronics industry associations and several philanthropic organizations.

2019 Man of the Year

On February 16, 2019 the Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma honored two highly accomplished alumni brothers. James Shively, '00, was honored as Chi's 2019 Man of the Year and Mark McKechnie, '86, was inducted into Chi's Hall of Fame.

Brother Shively's time at Chi began in 2000 as Chi's first recolonization Grand Master! After graduating with a Purdue BSChemE and a U of Chicago MBA, James was Sr. Operations Manager at BP after his time at Exxon-Mobile and is now Operations Director for Amazon.

After Brother McKechnie's graduation from Purdue with a BSEE and a Northwestern Kellogg MBA, he has worked on the development and financing of a variety of high tech products and organizations including the development of the first flip phone. As the Financial VP for ACM Research, he continuing to press new technology.

On February 15, 2020, Chi Chapter will honor alumni brothers Michael Cline '84 as Chi's 2020 Man of the Year and Chris Monzel '87, as Chi's 2020 Hall of Fame inductee.

After brother Cline graduated from Purdue with a BSCE degree Mike has had an exceptional career including the assignment as head of the Indiana Highway Department and currently as Purdue's Senior Vice President of Administrative Operations.

With a Purdue BS in Aeronautical Engineering and a MPP from the Harvard Kennedy School, brother Monzel has had a long and distinguished career in aviation and other associated products with GE Aeronautics and other organizations.

2018|19 CELEBRATIONS

1960's Mega-Reunion On a beautiful day in September, 2019 over 60 Chi brothers from the late 60's descended on 308 North to relive their past brotherhood and laugh at the old stories. Social Chairman for Life Frank Caputo arranged this second Mega-reunion with golf, football tickets, dinners, a band, and a few drinks. Personal accomplishments, kids and grand-kids were touted. There was sorrow expressed about some of those brothers and wives who are no longer with us. The chapter brothers were most gracious and welcoming. The alums appreciated receiving the State of the Chapter address. More importantly the alums appreciated being met at the front door and welcomed back home.

YULETIDE PHILANTHROPY During December each year, Chi hosts a Yuletide philanthropy which is co-hosted with College Mentors for Kids. College Mentors for Kids is a club that pairs college students with underprivileged children from the local area. The event is a week long philanthropy that includes events such as a Christmas decorating competition between sororities, a gingerbread house making competition, trivia night, a talent show, and then on Saturday, we have the kids and their mentors over to the beautifully decorated Chi chapter house. The Saturday attractions include live reindeer in the front yard, several Brothers dressed as Santa Clause and his elves, a fire engine for the kids to inspect, and more. Overall this philanthropy is truly an amazing experience for everyone. It can be difficult to step aside from our busy schedules, but when we are able to witness events like these, it is extremely rewarding. Seeing the genuine happiness on the kid's faces gives us indescribable joy - it is truly a humbling experience.

ALUMNI Profiles

Frank Caputo '66

Brother Caputo worked for 43 years in the field of pharmacy in various roles before retiring in 2013. He had been in retail pharmacy, served as a staff pharmacist in a hospital pharmacy, and completed three stints in pharmacy administration as Director of Pharmacy Services. Frank also spent a portion of his career in sales and consulting for a Medical Electronics Co., was the National Director of Sales for a drug company, and was the owner/chef of Caputo's Italian Ristorante in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

As an undergraduate in Chi Chapter, Frank held the position of Social Chairman. This role still remains relevant to him today as he was elected as Social Chairman for Life by the brothers of '66. The pledge class of '66 has the distinction of having had a reunion every five years from 1974-2004, and then every two years from 2006-2014, which he took the lead in planning. For their 50th anniversary of initiation into Chi Chapter, the Class of '66 decided to hold a Mega Reunion to include brothers initiated throughout the 1960s. He would like to recognize Jay Lanisus, John Prentice, Steve Springer, Marty Reitz, Bill Peters, John Fanone, and Mark Frankel for all of their help in the planning of this event. Due to the success of the first Mega Reunion, the brothers initiated in the 1960s planned another Mega Reunion, held September 6-7, 2019 at Purdue. The event included golf held on Friday morning, followed by a cocktail/hors d'oeuvre reception that night. Saturday started off with lunch at the house, followed by the Purdue vs. Vanderbilt football game, and ended with a cocktail/dinner reception with live entertainment.

Being initiated into Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma was one of the greatest events in Frank's life. He was especially grateful for being inducted into the Chi Chapter Hall of Fame in 2009. Frank states, "Oh the memories of my days at 308 North Street. For the brothers in the Pledge Class of 1966, the words 'a brother in heart through life as a brother in law,' ring so true. Is it any wonder that this unique class of men has met 14 times since graduation? Chi Chapter in the beginning gave me the opportunity to grow as a man. In the ensuing years the bond that was formed with my brothers could never be stronger. It is this lifelong bond that means so much to me as a Chi Chapter Kappa Sigma."

He would also like to share with the undergraduates to savor the moments that you have as a Kappa Sig. Use all your efforts to stay in touch with brothers in the years beyond graduation. The memories as an undergraduate will stay with you forever, but the memories of your brothers over the upcoming years when you can share in their lives is more than enough for any man. Frank does not want to ever lose the relationships he has with his brothers, and he truly believes his brothers want the same.

Rev. Mitch Norwood '84

Brother Norwood has had an extremely successful career since graduating from Purdue. His experience ranges from being a Marketing Associate with Eli Lilly and Co. in 1990, to first becoming a Youth Pastor at Aldersgate United Methodist Church in 1998. He has been a Pastor at several churches, and in July of 2019 he will begin as Senior Pastor of Saint Joseph United Methodist Church in Fort Wayne, IN. While he was an undergraduate at Purdue, Mitch was very involved on campus. He was a member of the Purdue University Choir, Grand Prix Junior Board, Gimlet Leadership Honorary, and was a Counselor/Staff Resident at Tarkington Hall. Mitch was also very involved in the Chi Chapter, as he served as Grand Scribe, GM of Ceremonies, GM, Pledge Educator, Delegate to two Grand Conclaves, and was the U-Sing Director. He remained active in Kappa Sigma following graduation as he was the Alumnus Advisor of Nu Kappa Colony/Chapter at the University of Central Arkansas, and was the first brother from Chi to become one of Jackson's Men (Pin #74). Mitch states that Chi was truly a band of brothers. It quickly gave him a sense of belonging to something when he got to Purdue. The time he spent at Chi and the relationships that developed will always be fond memories for him. When asked if he has any advice to help undergraduates succeed, Mitch states, "First, don't forget to study? Apply yourself to your schoolwork, but also work on building great relationships with your Chi brothers. Get involved in other campus organizations as well. And if you're able to, I would encourage you to get involved in the larger Kappa Sigma organization. The connections you make will provide a great network which will last your whole life. It's amazing how many times your path will cross with brothers from other chapters over the years. And lastly, as a pastor, I'd also encourage you to get involved in a religious organization on campus!"

UNDERGRADUATE Profiles

Kevin Boes '18

Kevin Boes is a sophomore from Great Falls, MT, and spent his summer interning for Daimler Trucks North America in Portland, OR. At Purdue, Kevin studies Mechanical Engineering, where he aspires to work in either the aeronautical or automotive industry after graduation. Within the Chi Chapter, Kevin has held positions as Risk Management Committee, Mom's Day Committee, and Academic Committee, and currently serves as the Grand Procurator. Aside from Kappa Sigma, he has also been involved in Future Greek Leaders, and is currently a member of BGR, Purdue Formula SAE, and the Co-Op Program on the Purdue campus. Kevin has that the brotherhood of Kappa Sigma is the reason he joined, and is the reason he will continue to support the Fraternity in future endeavors. The brothers he has met and formed relationships with are his closest friends because they guide and support him. Kevin knows that whenever he is feeling down, his Chi brothers will be there to lift him back up. The brotherhood is something he cherishes close to his heart because it has opened so many doors for the future. The relationships he has made have made him a better leader, a better student, and overall a better man. Kappa Sigma's brotherhood is without a doubt extremely strong, and it will continue to be a part of Kevin's life as he pursues his dreams. Kevin would like to encourage new members to get as involved as possible in the Fraternity, but also on campus. Saying "yes" to any opportunity will give a new member the best Purdue experience they could have, and will create amazing memories to learn from and look back happily on. Kevin also says that new members should just be themselves, and take on the challenges of college with the expectation that they will become stronger by the end of each day. Also, take advantage of the time spent with the brothers because it will go by quickly, and the strong brotherhood formed will help members make the most of Purdue, and will grant access to future opportunities.

Chris Lewis '17

Chris Lewis is a junior in the Alpha Omicron pledge class, initiated in the fall of 2017. He is from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and studies Industrial Engineering at Purdue along with a minor in Entrepreneurship and Innovation. Once he graduates, Chris hopes to use his IE degree to work in product management, where he can utilize both his technical engineering and business skills. During the summer of his freshman year, Chris interned as an applications engineer for an industrial automation company out of Moorestown, New Jersey, Shingle and Gibb Automation, where he got great technical experience working with industrial technology and engineers with 30+ years of experience. During the summer of his sophomore year, he worked as a product management intern for Dwyer Instruments located in Michigan City, Indiana. This internship gave him great insight into how you can utilize engineering and business together, and make a very big impact on a company.

At Kappa Sigma, Chris has gained great leadership experience through running committees, and would urge all members to do the same. During his sophomore year in the house, he worked as the Risk Manager, Landscape head and Mom's Day head. Chris learned how to manage his time between extracurricular activities and schoolwork and how to work together with others to work towards a common goal. During his junior year, Chris will be the Grand Treasurer for the chapter. On campus, he is involved in an organization called PurdueTHINK, which is a consulting group in which they complete projects for other groups on campus who have problems they are trying to solve. Chris has cherished his time being a Kappa Sigma, and would urge as many incoming Purdue students as possible to see what the chapter has to offer. The brotherhood, networking opportunities and friends that are made within the chapter is what makes it so special to him. As a member of the Chi chapter, Chris would urge you to get as involved as possible in the chapter. He would also recommend getting close to brothers in all grade levels. The lack of pledge class divide in our chapter is something that makes Chi Chapter very unique and special, so take advantage of it.
