CHI CHAPTER OF KAPPA SIGMA OF PURDUE UNIVERSITY | WINTER EDITION 2020

11 Ag1tator

HOUSE CORPORATION & ALUMNI ASSOCIATION REPORT

Kappa Sigma at Purdue has had some problems recently. These were the consequence of unacceptable trends in the chapter's "activities, attitudes and results" over the past several years. The result, this past summer, was restrictions imposed on the chapter by Purdue and Kappa Sigma. On top of all this, the current COVID problems have complicated the chapter's functioning. However, with the strong commitment of the current membership and increased alumni leadership, Chi has reorganized and is already returning to its former place of excellence and leadership on campus.

At a "Show Cause Hearing" this summer, the Kappa Sigma SEC fined the chapter $25,000 and required establishing an Alumni Board of Control (ABC) [made up of 20 dedicated Chi Alumni brothers]. A reasonable Purdue University probation agreement was also finally negotiated with the help of the chapter faculty adviser, Mike Cline. While the basis for both of these might be questionable, the chapter is now focused on "getting all of this behind us".

The ABC completed a chapter membership review this past summer and is now mentoring the Executive Committee and brothers in every chapter function. Expulsions resulting from the membership review seriously reduced the chapter membership. This resulted in an in-house occupancy of only 25 to 30 members and 20 parlor contracts. Therefore, additional borrowing will be necessary to meet the house corporation "cash requirements" for this school year.

With the live-in commitments by returning members, a 33 man fall pledge class and a reasonable spring pledge class, the house should again be full next year with 75 members living in. Assuming the chapter maintains full occupancy (75 live-in contracts) next year and in the future, it will be possible to repay the additional borrowing and rebuild the house corporation's capital reserve over the next several years.

After spending a significant amount of money this past summer on the HVAC system and other repairs, the house's general physical condition is very good. Our House Mother (Teri Battleday), Omni Services' maintenance support, Greek Life Services' accounting support, College Chefs' food service and FMG's administrative assistance are now providing the necessary oversight and assistance needed to maintain orderly house corporation operations.

Kappa Sigma was established on Purdue's campus in 1885. It is Purdue's second oldest fraternity (after Sigma Chi). The chapter Alumni Association has resumed planning for the delayed celebration for the 135th anniversary of Chi's founding at Purdue. The event will take place in the fall of 2021 and will include the 2021 Man of the Year dinner.

Doug Kowert '60 President Chi Chapter House Corporation and Alumni Association

We are looking forward to celebrating the history and legacy of the Chi Chapter in the fall of 2021. We will recognize the 135th Anniversary of the chapter, the 20th Anniversary of our re-chartering, and The Chi Man of the Year on Saturday, October 9th, 2021. We look forward to seeing everybody back on campus. Please save the date for a weekend of brotherhood, fellowship, and celebration. Look for more details regarding venues and accommodations in the near future!

Steve Springer '67 - President Matt Brozovic '82 - Secretary John Fanone '69 - Treasurer Rich Adams II '83 - Trustee Charlie Marshall '61 - Trustee My name is Kevin Boes and I am honored to serve as the Grand Master for the Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma during the 2020-2021 academic year. I am a Fall '18 initiate and current junior studying Mechanical Engineering from Great Falls, Montana. Last fall, I served as Grand Procurator for Chi, and I am prepared and excited to take on the role of Grand Master!

To say the least, these are very interesting times for the Chi Chapter. The Chapter has seen drastic change and immense progress the past few months. Unfortunately, last May, the Chapter appeared before the SEC and IFC for hearings. From this, sanctions were imposed by both, highlighted by a $25,000 fine due to the culmination of past mistakes and reappearances at SEC show cause hearings. Clearly, a change in culture was needed.

Since then, Chi has already seen cultural improvements. I am extremely proud of the effort the Chapter has put forth this summer and the first months of the semester, despite removing half of our membership. Morale is high and brothers are holding each other accountable for the policies we have set in place thus far. In times like these with COVID-19 and imposed sanctions, it is easy for Chi to give up, but brothers and alumni continue to support the 135-year legacy this Chapter has to uphold. Culture change can be difficult, but the EC is doing a phenomenal job realigning the brotherhood toward the values we all live by.

The first two months of the 2020 school year have gone by quickly. With just over 50 brothers, we have managed to raise over $10,000 through a gofundme effort to go toward the fine. Also, Walt Foster and Caleb Mayhorn rallied a rush committee and the whole house to pledging in 30 qualified young men safely and effectively. This number is expected to increase, as we are continuing to rush throughout the semester. Our Brotherhood Development head Sam Coverick is ready to form the new members into better men as they begin their journey to brotherhood. I have no doubt in my mind that this pledge class will "leave the house better than they found it."

In addition to the strong rush effort, we initiated 10

new brothers who had their pledgeship delayed due to the pandemic. I am excited to see the impact this pledge class will provide to Chi. Despite uncertainty with COVID-19 and Chi's situation, they chose to stick together through it all, which is a testament to the commitment this brotherhood has now.

The Chapter has several exciting smaller events coming up. Many brothers ran a 5K for our house mother's grandson, who sadly passed away 2 years ago. Additionally, in late October, a handful of brothers will be helping at a local food bank. All events abide by Protect Purdue and CDC guidelines.

Chi's relationships with HQ, Purdue University, and Alumni have greatly improved. An Alumni Board of Control lead by Vince Shissler ('00, founding father) has provided insights and direction that have inspired the Chapter to be the best it can be. We are all extremely grateful for the efforts of not only Vince, but the plethora of alumni who have given back to the Chapter throughout the years. The brotherhood has participated in several of HQ's initiatives, including a 100%-chapter RSVP to the "Largest Rush Event" in mid-September. The Chapter also gave back to first responders on 9/11 by donating a dozen donuts and a thank you card to the Fire Department during their 7:00 am shift change.

The Chapter just recently hosted a virtual antihazing workshop with Ryan Bosse and several others from HQ, with over 90% of our membership in attendance. This discussion focused on the negative effects of hazing and why Kappa Sigma does not promote it. Culture change is tough, but hazing is one thing that will never be in the Chi Chapter's future.

In terms of the University, I am communicating frequently with Dean and alumnus Mike Cline and Associate Dean Brandon Cutler. In an effort to promote Purdue and their efforts to support their students during these times, Chi is hanging a Protect Purdue banner, sponsored by the university, and is investing in co-branded Protect Purdue-Kappa Sigma shirts. I am extremely proud of the responsibility of brothers to wear masks and socially distance. To illustrate, in late September one of our brothers living in the house unfortunately tested positive for COVID-19. However, the swift response plan from the EC and whole Brotherhood to orchestrate a house-wide test, identify and individually quarantine high-risk contacts, and follow policies set by both Purdue and the Chi Chapter allowed us to mitigate the spread within the house. This resulted in 0 additional positive cases of COVID-19 in the house after testing all brothers living in! Unlike many other congregate living facilities on campus, Chi has enjoyed going to in-person class, the co-rec, etc. without being put on a 14-day house quarantine. But the war against COVID-19 hasn't ended; we will continue to follow guidelines because we recognize that congregate housing plays a critical role in keeping Purdue open this fall.

Looking forward, I am excited for Chi's future, despite having an environment not conducive to growth. With a strong spring rush, the house will be full for the first time in several years, as most of the upcoming seniors have committed to living in and providing their leadership and insights to the younger brothers.

Everyone in the Chapter understands and is committed to our top goals for the year, guided by diligence and commitment: win F.A.C.E and become better men together. There is no better time to be a Kappa Sigma than right now.

2020 PLEDGE CLASS

The Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma is proud to welcome 33 pledges on the journey to brotherhood. Over the past few weeks, the Alpha Phi pledge class has begun to demonstrate that they have the specific qualities every Kappa Sigma member prides themselves on. With the challenges COVID-19 has brought all of us, the Alpha Phi pledge class continues to show resilience to learn what Kappa Sigma and Chi is all about. While taking necessary COVID-19 precautions, these young men have begun connecting and building unbreakable bonds with the brothers in person and via FaceTime. In addition, having just met Chi's house mother, Terry Battleday, they welcomed the opportunity to support her and her late grandson in a 5K. The chapter is taking note of how much these young men have grown individually and united as one. The Chi Chapter is excited and looking forward to a bright future the Alpha Phi pledge class will bring.

What Kappa Sigma means to me: To me The Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma represents a special relationship that I am able to have to my fraternity. Being that Chi was one of the first chapters of Kappa Sigma to be created, it is hard to not keep that legacy in mind when dealing with my day-to-day ordeals. There is a reason I am surrounded by the brotherhood that Kappa Sigma has offered me, and I have been able to already, within my first year of membership, take advantage of opportunities that have come my way including leadership, fellowship, and service-related opportunities. Being a Kappa Sigma is something that only few get the liberty of, and I have and will continue to preserve the legacy it has shown to me, out of respect for past members who made it all possible.

Advice to new brothers: My advice to new members is to get involved early outside of just Kappa Sigma. Our goal is to keep the Kappa Sigma name as prosperous as it has been, and by stretching out to university clubs, organizations, and groups, our name will only continue to be more and more respected. In all, cherish this membership because these are the moments you are going to look back on for years to come.

What Kappa Sigma Means to me: Kappa Sigma to me is a place where I can become the best version of myself. Kappa Sigma has taught me numerous life lessons involving professionalism and brotherhood that I will take with me for the rest of my life. The memories and friendships that I have made through the house are some of the most valuable things I will carry on with me for the rest of my life.

Advice to new brothers: Get involved as soon as possible in the house and around campus. There are so many opportunities that the campus and house can offer you to better yourself and you have to take advantage of these opportunities to not only help better yourself, but to show the campus and recruiters that Kappa Sigma members are go getters.
